

Kaetlyn Osmond Skating Today

VOCM, Wednesday, February 19

Marystow native Kaetlyn Osmond will take to the ice once again today representing Canada at the Olympics. The 18-year-old reigning Canadian champion placed fifth in the team competition during the first few days of the tournament. She was a member of the team that secured a silver medal.

Osmond has been living in Alberta for the past eight years but still has family in Marystow. She'll perform eighth in the short program, and is expected to skate around 12:30 Newfoundland time.