

Bye Yesterday

You gotta be loved so you gotta find that warm place in your heart and you just found it and your dropped on your face. So just forget about your yesterday and let it soar....soar right out the window.

You gotta let go to grow and you gotta grow to see and you gotta see to clear your mind and you gotta clear your mind to be able to forget about your yesterday to be able to flick it out the window and never never see it again.

You gotta clear your mind and look out the window at the scenery so you can forget about the horrifying yesterday you gotta let go so your grip is gone cause..

Hey there goes your yesterday look out the window I see it flyin across the street. Good job for you, you let go of you grip and let it soar.
