Message from the Chief Review Commissioner

In accordance with the reporting requirements of the Transparency and Accountability Act for a Category 3 Entity and the Workplace Health, Safety and Compensation Act (the Act), I am pleased to present the Workers' Compensation Independent Review Board's (WCIRB) Annual Performance Report for 2023-24. As Chief Review Commissioner of WCIRB, I am responsible for the preparation of this report and accountable for the results contained within.

2023-24 brought forward several significant changes to our organization. The new Act that came into force in September resulted in a name change for us to the Workers' Compensation Independent Review Board which is an accurate reflection of our role and mandate.

We also recruited two additional full-time Review Commissioners in June 2023 to bring our panel to a total of five including the Chief Review Commissioner role. This reflects and aligns with the overall change in the panel model from part-time to full-time Review Commissioners and we are beginning to realize a significant impact on our statistics, as outlined in this report.

I would like to thank both the administrative and adjudicative staff of WCIRB for their diligence and dedication to the delivery of client centered services to injured workers and employers.

We look forward to working with you in 2024-25 as we continue to strive to uphold the principles of natural justice, provide exceptional client service, and continue to realize statistical gains and improvements.

Suzanne Hollett

- Compensation and medical aid benefits;
- Rehabilitation and return to work services and benefits; and,
- Employers' assessments and industry classifications.

Mandate

The mandate of the WCIRB is to review decisions of WorkplaceNL to ensure compliance with the Act and Regulations, as well as with the policies of WorkplaceNL. The WCIRB is also mandated to direct appropriate remedies where necessary.

Vision

The vision of the WCIRB is an environment where workers and employers participate in an independent, timely and fair review process anchored in a culture of exceptional client service.

Lines of Business

The WCIRB offers the following services to its clients:

- Review of decisions of WorkplaceNL. WCIRB processes review applications submitted by injured workers, their dependents and employers in the province, as well as coordinates a review process that includes a hearing before a Review Commissioner.
- Information Services. WCIRB provides information services to its clients by providing web-based distribution of its decisions, researching workers' compensation issues and collecting and maintaining statistical information relative to the review process.

Additional information on WCIRB can be found on its website at <http://www.gov.nl.ca/whscrd>.

Organizational Chart

Highlights and Partnerships

Organizational Name Change

The 2013 statutory review committee proposed an amendment to the Act to change the name of the Workplace Health, Safety and Compensation Review Division (WHSCRD) to a name that more accurately reflects its position as a stand-alone entity, both external and independent of WorkplaceNL. The 2019 statutory review committee recommended this change proceed and effective September 2023, the former WHSCRD was renamed the Workers' Compensation Independent Review Board (WCIRB).

The majority of WCIRB's literature and website material has been updated to reflect the name change. The remaining name change updates are ongoing and will be completed throughout the 2024-25 fiscal year.

Joint Committee

As per recommendation 3.1 of the 2019 statutory review of the workers' compensation system in Newfoundland and Labrador, upon direction from the Minister, WCIRB and WorkplaceNL formed a joint committee of representatives who meet quarterly to review, analyze and formulate operational solutions to issues surrounding consideration of additional and/or new evidence that may come forward during the external review process. Initial priorities for the 2023-24 fiscal year included formalizing a triage process for new information; and introducing a "red-flag" system at WorkplaceNL as directed by the Minister from the 2020 Statutory Review Report. Progress to date is proving successful, with fewer cases placed on hold at any given point in time.

Report on Performance

Fiscal 2023-24 is the first year of the 2023-26 strategic planning cycle. The results of WCIRB's work to meet its stated objectives year are laid out below.

Issue 1: Review Application Processing

Review applications are processed through both administrative and adjudicative functions. WCIRB's administrative team receives and processes review applications to ensure all administrative requirements are met prior to scheduling a hearing for adjudication.

Cases are considered closed when a final decision has been issued; if the applicant withdraws their case; or if WCIRB determines it has to dismiss or reject an application due to an error.

WCIRB met its 2023-24 objective as outlined in the following section. It is worthy to note WCIRB closed a total of 268 cases, representing a 26 per cent increase over the previous year (213 cases closed).

Objective Results for 2023-24

Objective: By March 31 of 2024, WCIRB will have collected all information on the standing of its review applications for reporting to the public and all other relevant parties.

Issue 2: Hearing Review Applications

With the cases compiled by the administrative team, Review Commissioners are able to conduct hearings of review applications in-person, by video and teleconference, or a documents only (paper) review. At times applicants may request rescheduling for extenuating circumstances. In such cases, WCIRB attempts to reschedule hearings in a timely manner.

WCIRB met its 2023-24 objective as outlined in the following section. It is worthy to note WCIRB held 214 hearings, representing the highest number in several years and more than a 25 per cent increase over 2022-23 (169 hearings).

Issue 3: Decisions Rendered

WCIRB has the jurisdiction to review decisions of WorkplaceNL for correctness and error. This usually occurs through the hearing process. Upon completion of the hearing, Review Commissioners are responsible for conducting a thorough review and analysis of the issue(s) before them in order to render a timely decision according to the Act, based on the record of information, which includes the hearing.

Due to new, complex or emerging issues, WCIRB also selects several Noteworthy Decisions each year to highlight outcomes that articulate these emerging issues.

WCIRB met its 2023-24 objective as outlined in the following section. The number of decisions rendered this fiscal year, 214, is up 27 per cent when compared to fiscal 2022-23 (169) and is also the highest number of decisions rendered in any of the past seven years.

Opportunities and Challenges

Caseload

The number of applications and total caseload for WCIRB continues on a gradual rise, which can present challenges in progressing the caseload in a timely manner. 2023-24 saw a total caseload of 479 cases. However, with the appointment of additional full-time Review Commissioners during this past fiscal year, we also had, and will continue to have, an opportunity to make significant gains moving forward. These gains are anticipated to have an impact on the time waiting for a hearing and the time from hearing to decision, both of which are realizing steady reductions.

WCIRB will continue to monitor the number of applications through the 2024-25 fiscal year and respond according to the demand and make any necessary recommendations to the Minister Responsible for WorkplaceNL.

2023-24 Additional Caseload Activity

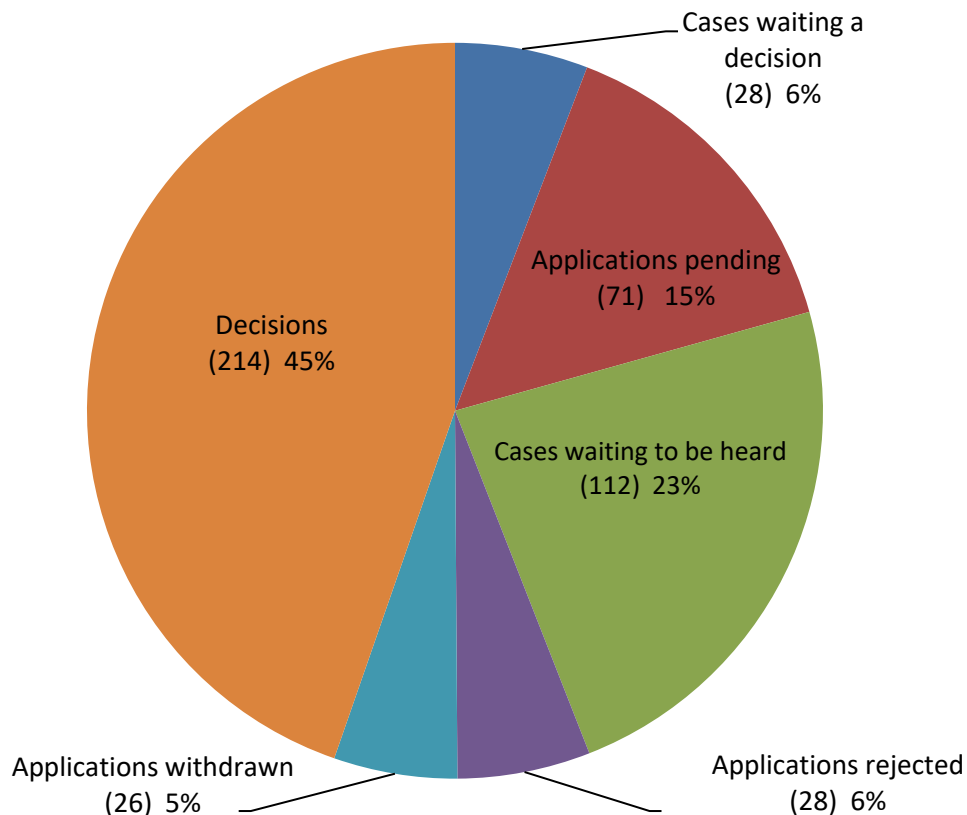

- WCIRB's overall annual caseload consisted of 479 cases (Table 1-page 13).
- Workers and their dependents filed 231 Requests for Review representing 94 per cent of the applications filed in 2023-24. Employers filed 15 Request for Review applications, or 6 per cent.
- The bulk of hearings are held in the Mount Pearl office as 80 per cent of clients are located in the Avalon region. Also, since the Covid-19 pandemic and the associated reliance on alternate technology, many clients will now opt for a teleconference or videoconference if it means an expedited hearing date vs. waiting for sufficient demand and scheduled hearings in their region.
- The top three issues under review were: Claim Denied, Extended Earnings Loss Benefits, and Permanent Functional Impairment rating (Table 2-page 14).
- The number of decisions rendered in fiscal 2023-24 (214) is also the highest in seven years and up 27 per cent compared to fiscal 2022-23 (169).
- Decisions are rendered an average of 66 days after the hearing, but 84 per cent of decisions are rendered under 60 days.
- The total number of closed cases in fiscal 2023-24 is 268, representing a 20 per cent increase over the previous fiscal year.
- Cases are typically scheduled in order of application date. However, WCIRB attempts to assess and triage issues having the most impact on an applicant's financial situation (i.e. wage loss situation) to expedite those cases where possible.
